National Emergency Alert System (EAS) Test

- On 09/28/16 at 1120 hours (PST) the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), in coordination with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), will conduct a mandatory nationwide test of the Emergency Alert System (EAS) to verify the delivery and broadcast, and assess the readiness for distribution, of a national level test message.
- The EAS test is made available to radio, television, cable, and direct broadcast satellite systems and is scheduled to last approximately one minute.
- The message of the test will be similar to the regular monthly test message of EAS, normally heard and seen by the public: "This is a national test of the Emergency Alert System. This is only a test."
- FEMA is taking pains not to cause any unnecessary public concern. Such national tests can be expected to become routine in coming years.
- FEMA advises, "The test is intended to ensure public safety officials have the methods and systems that will deliver urgent alerts and warnings to the public in times of an emergency or disaster. Periodic testing of public alert and warning systems is also a way to assess the operational readiness of the infrastructure required for the distribution of a national message and determine what technological improvements need to be addressed."

Odor, Contra Costa / Solano County, Spill 16-5756

- On 09/20/16 at 2039 hours, the California State Warning Center (CSWC) received a report of a pungent odor in the county. The United States Coast Guard (USCG) also notified the CSWC they were enroute to check the area for the possible source of the smell.
- The City of Vallejo issued a shelter in place order due to the circumstances and advised that their Fire Department was actively searching for the source as well.
- The CSWC made all appropriate notifications per SOP.
- At 2201 hours the Cal OES Coastal Duty Officer (CDO) advised that hospitals had been "overwhelmed" with patients with irritant type complaints.
- At 2321 hours the CDO advised that the USCG launched a helicopter to see if they could observe anything from Martinez straight to Mare Island.
 - Sutter General in Vallejo declared a MCI Level 2 event (Both Kaiser and Sutter General had 50 patients each).
 - Medic ambulances transported 20 people to northern hospitals.
 - The City of Vallejo activated partially to support the high volume of calls.

- USCG San Francisco reports that their helicopter fly over was performed and nothing was discovered in the area.
- Solano County Sheriffs Officer, reported that the Benicia and Vallejo EOCs were closed and the hospital MCI alert was cancelled and the investigation concluded.

2016 Haitian Entrants Support

Cal OES State Operations Center (SOC) is partially activated in support of this event.

Haitian Entrants, San Ysidro, San Diego County

- An unprecedented number of Haitian entrants have been arriving at the San Ysidro Port of Entry in recent weeks. Haitians, like Cubans and refugees, are a special class of immigrants who are immediately eligible for public social services upon arrival to the United States. The Haitian entrants processed by U.S. Immigration and Customer Enforcement are now sheltered at three different locations: Christ Ministry Center - United Methodist Church, City of San Diego; California National Guard (CNG) National City Armory; and the CNG El Cajon Armory. Most Haitian entrants will relocate to other parts of the country with no intent to reside long term in San Diego.
- The Christ Ministry Center shelter had an overnight population of 102 Haitian entrants. With the Church still over capacity, the CNG El Cajon Armory shelter is expected to open 09/20/16 to relieve the Church. The CNG National City Armory shelter is operational and had an overnight population of 126 Haitian entrants. Multiple NGO's are contributing to provide for all wrap around services for both of the shelters. Currently, there are no unmet needs identified by the key stakeholders.

Non Governmental Organizations

- Alliance San Diego/Christ Ministry Center United Methodist Church, continues to operate the two temporary shelters established at the CNG Armories and also the Christ Ministry Center.
- Catholic Charities: The Cuban Haitian Entrant Program (CHEP) national office in Miami will be sending a staff person to San Diego on 09/26/16 to assist in screening and assisting Haitians staying in San Diego to apply for CHEP.
- The American Red Cross (ARC) is continuing to work with the Alliance San Diego and Christ Ministry Center United Methodist Church to provide unbranded cots, blankets, hygiene kits, dormitory management expertise, technical assistance and training to church personnel in managing shelters.

State agencies currently supporting the sheltering operations are as follows:

- The California Department of Social Services (CDSS) is coordinating with U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families and Office of Refugee Resettlement.
- The California Department of Food and Agriculture (CDFA) provided costs associated with using the Del Mar Fairgrounds in San Diego County as a possible shelter and identified other fair grounds in other Counties that might be a viable location for long-term shelter needs.
- Cal Volunteers deployed two staff members to the National City Armory on 09/18/16 to assist Alliance San Diego in preparations to receive and intake the Haitian entrants. Cal Volunteers has also activated 11 California AmericCorps Disaster Team members to assist in sheltering operations.
- The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) is coordinating with U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Refugee Resettlement, Office of Refugee Health, and local public health.
- The California National Guard (CNG) is mission tasked to stand up two Armories for shelter.

The San Diego Operational Area is monitoring the situation and will assist in the set-up of a health screening tool and connect individuals that need help with medical services.

The Imperial Operational Area is monitoring the situation in the Calexico Point of Entry and is currently not significantly impacted.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

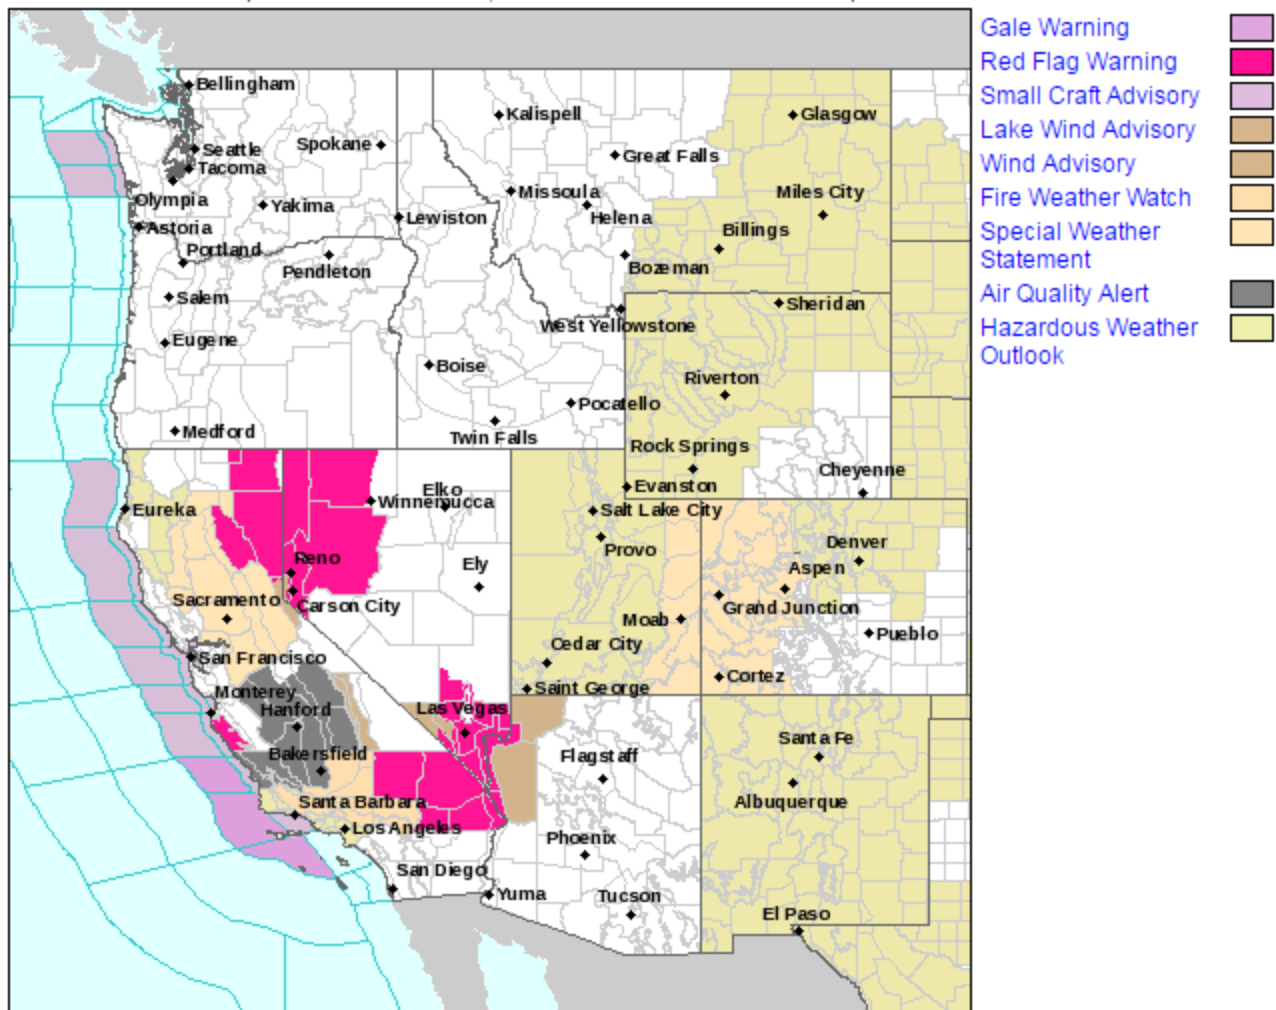

A low pressure trough over the Pacific Northwest will produce a moderate southwest flow over the region through today. Afternoon gusts from the Cascade-Sierra crest east will reach 30-35 mph today and 35-40 mph Wednesday. Humidity will drop into the lower teens today. Temperatures will cool a bit today. The trough will form into a closed low and move across far northern areas tonight and early Thursday with a few rain showers and a slight chance of thunderstorms. By Thursday afternoon the low will be in Nevada and the last showers and isolated thunderstorms will end in our eastern areas. Temperatures will cool to 5-10 degrees below normal Thursday and Friday. Rainfall totals with any showers or thunderstorms will be light, generally 0.20 inches or less with a direct hit. Following the passage of the low, a northerly surface wind pattern will develop from the western Sierra slopes to the coast. North-northeast/offshore winds will gust to 25 mph or so during nights and mornings through Friday, then increase to 25-30 mph Friday night and continue all day Saturday. This wind event will approach High Risk criteria in and around the Sacramento Valley as it continues all day Saturday. The winds will become lighter Sunday. Relative humidity (RH) values will also likely be on a decreasing trend with a reasonably good chance of widespread poor overnight recovery developing in the windy areas during the weekend. Afternoon highs will be on the increase again under high pressure and will return to the upper 90s in the warmest inland areas over the weekend.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Moisture from Tropical Storm Paine off the Baja Coast will be pulled northward into the area today. While the atmosphere is expected to remain cloudy and generally hostile to precipitation, scattered showers and thunderstorms will be possible from San Diego County northeastward across the desert toward Needles. Today is expected to be the transition day as a deep trough is expected to sweep most of the subtropical moisture from the state Wednesday night and Thursday. Cooler onshore will strengthen in the afternoon. A handful of showers may still occur across the Cleveland National Forest into the desert as well as the central Sierras. Tonight and Thursday, gusty west winds of 20-30 mph with gusts to 50 mph will be possible across the Sierras, Inyo National Forest and much of the desert north of Ridgecrest and I-15. It will also be quite windy in the Banning Pass, northern Los Angeles County and the eastern Cleveland National Forest where some gusts to 40 mph will be possible Thursday afternoon. Temperatures will be 10-20 degrees cooler with highs in the 60s in the mountains to the lower 80s in the valleys. Winds will decrease Thursday night. This same trough is expected to head inland over the weekend, which will generate offshore flow Saturday and Sunday. Winds during this event are not expected to be particularly strong, but wind speeds will likely exceed last weekend's event. It will be much warmer Saturday and Sunday with widespread valley temperatures over 100 degrees. Minimum RH will likely be in the single digits over Southern California this weekend with poor recovery. Cooler weather may return next Monday or Tuesday.
